YOLO CHARTERS · PREVEZA, IONIAN SEA

Meet our base.

Where your Ionian sailing holiday begins: a real place to meet, a team to talk to and everything coordinated before you step aboard.

Inside our Preveza base: the lounge where crews gather before the handover.

ARRIVING IN PREVEZA

A proper welcome, before you step aboard.

Before the first swim, the first sunset at anchor or the first breakfast in the cockpit, there is another moment that matters: arriving. Bags in hand, a crew coming together, a few last questions, and the feeling that the holiday is finally real.

Our base in Preveza is where that part of the journey becomes personal. Behind the YOLO sign is a bright space with places to sit, a table to gather around and room to talk through the day ahead. You put faces to names, settle the practical questions and start thinking about the week on the water.

- Meet the team in person. The people behind your charter are here, not at the end of a phone line.
- Talk through your arrival. Who arrives when, what the skipper still needs to know, what to prepare before the boat.
- Everything coordinated. Documents, questions and timing sorted ashore, so the handover at the quay can focus on the yacht itself.

Look for the YOLO Charters sign: the entrance to our base.

WHERE TO FIND US

On the seafront, close to the yachts.

Our office and guest lounge are at Leoforos Irinis 81, on the avenue that runs along the Preveza seafront. Cafés, bakeries and supermarkets are around the corner for the last provisioning before you sail.

Our yachts moor on the town quay by the entrance of Preveza Marina, in front of the Oven pizzeria. From the office it is a short walk along the seafront, so the crew can gather at the base while the yacht is being prepared and then stroll to the quay together.

Map data © OpenStreetMap contributors. Your booking confirmation tells you where to meet us first: at the office or at the yacht.

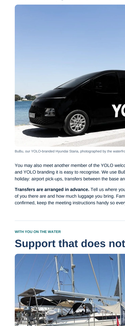

Flying in: Aktion Airport (PVK) is just across the water from the town. You continue by road, with no island ferry on arrival day. Bulbu, our van, can meet you there when a transfer is arranged.

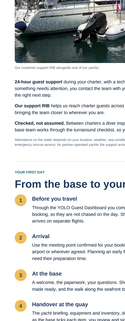

Preveza, the Ambracian Gulf and Aktion Airport, with Lefkada to the south-west.

INSIDE THE BASE

Space to settle into holiday mode.

Bright rooms, places to sit, a shared table and a kitchenette. Travel days rarely run to one timetable: some guests arrive together, others join later. Here everyone has somewhere to wait, ask and get organized.

COMFORT ASHORE

Showers, air conditioning and time to relax.

Arrived on an early flight? Spent your last night at anchor? The base has guest showers, so you can freshen up before boarding or before the journey home, and an air-conditioned lounge to wait in comfort while your yacht is being prepared. There is space to sign documents, charge a phone, make a plan with the skipper or simply sit with a coffee.

MEET BULBU

Our van, part of the welcome.

Bulbu, our YOLO-branded Hyundai Staria, photographed by the waterfront.

You may also meet another member of the YOLO welcome: Bulbu, our Hyundai Staria van. With its black finish and YOLO branding it is easy to recognise. We use Bulbu to help our guests with the road-going part of the holiday: airport pick-ups, transfers between the base and the quay, and local runs when the crew needs them.

Transfers are arranged in advance. Tell us where you are coming from, your flight or arrival time, how many of you there are and how much luggage you bring. Families' mention child seats when you enquire. Once confirmed, keep the meeting instructions handy so everyone in the group knows the plan.

WITH YOU ON THE WATER

Support that does not stop at the quay.

Our customer support RIB alongside one of our yachts.

24-hour guest support during your charter, with a technical team and a standby mechanic at the base. If something needs attention, you contact the team with your location and what is happening, and we coordinate the right next step.

Our support RIB helps us reach charter guests across the Ionian when on-water assistance can be arranged, bringing the team closer to wherever you are.

Checked, not assumed. Between charters a diver inspects each yacht's hull and underwater gear and the base team works through the turnaround checklist, so you start with a boat that has been looked at properly.

Attendance on the water depends on your location, weather, sea conditions and availability. This is coordinated customer support, not an emergency rescue service, for partner-operated yachts the support arrangements follow the specific booking.

YOUR FIRST DAY

From the base to your boat, step by step.

1. Before you travel
   Through the YOLO Guest Dashboard you complete the crew details and documents available for your booking, so they are not chased on the day. Share your travel plans with us, especially if the crew arrives on separate flights.
2. Arrival
   Use the meeting point confirmed for your booking. If a Bulbu transfer is arranged, we meet you at the airport or wherever agreed. Planning an early flight does not mean early access to the yacht: boats need their preparation time.
3. At the base
   A welcome, the paperwork, your questions. Showers, the lounge and a coffee while the yacht is being made ready, and the walk along the seafront to the quay when it is.
4. Handover at the quay
   The yacht's briefing, equipment and inventory, done on your phone: the electronic check-in updates live as the base ticks each item, you review and sign, and the signed copy stays with your booking. The security deposit is handled electronically and released after the agreed checks at check-out.

AND THEN, THE IONIAN

Short hops and sheltered water.

Lefkada, Meganisi, Ithaca, Kefalonia and the mainland coast are all within easy reach of Preveza. You do not need to fit every island into one holiday: start with how your crew likes to travel, then plan a realistic route with your skipper. Ask us for our North or South Ionian guide.

YOLO CHARTERS

See you in Preveza.

Tell us about your crew and your travel plans, and we will put the practical details in place: the meeting point, a transfer if you need one, and a handover that leaves time for the holiday.
